Dissolution:

The wisdom being departs to her natural abode.

The samaya being along with the universe and its inhabitants are absorbed into the essence of emptiness, the naturally pure great bliss of non-conceptual clear-light luminosity which is my own true nature. Having visualized thus, rest in meditative absorption.

To conclude: By the merit of this may all sentient beings of the three realms swiftly attain the primordial wisdom of the One Thus Gone.

Seal with prayers of dedication and as you rise enter into a path of activity that accords with Dharma.
